THE Accommodation between the Parties of Sapieha and Oginsky, which had been for some time Negociating, was at length concluded on the 20th Instant, when 'twas least expected. The Forces on both sides being drawn out into the Field with a design to Engage, Major-General Fleming, the Bishop of Wilna, and the Castellan Witepsky, with a Body of the King's German Forces marched in between them, and through their Mediation an Agreement was concluded and signed, by which, among other things, it was stipulated, That part of Prince Sapieha's Forces should be immediately Disbanded, and the rest taken into the Service of the Republick; that a Regiment of 1600 Men should be given to the Sieur Oginsky: and that at the same time, those who sided with Oginsky should separate and march home; Which was performed accordingly, to the great Joy of all the People of this Country, who had suffer'd very much by the Disorders to which an End is now put; And the Lithuanians, by a particular Compliment to General Fleming, have acknowledged his acceptable Services on this Occasion. The Ambassador of Muscovy having no Orders to comply with the Demands of the Port concerning the Forts on the Boresthenes, he has likewise sent an Express to Moscow for more particular Directions in this Point, and that the Conclusion of the General Treaty may not be delayed thereby, he has offered to agree to a Cessation of Arms between the Czar his Master and the Sultan for two years, during which time Matters may be further adjusted between them; And he consents, that at present the rest of the Allies may enter into the Truce of 25 years.
